The Herald To Conduct Poll On Upcoming President Race

How do Pickaway Countians feel about the presidential election in November?

Which candidate has the inside track now—nine weeks before the big event?

The Circleville Herald will conduct a street corner poll Saturday, at Court and Main Sts. to determine how Pickaway County residents are thinking at this time.

No special significance is placed on this unofficial and unscientific poll. It is hoped that if enough people vote in the poll some sort of trend can be determined.

Only once since 1924 have Pickaway County voters guessed wrong on a presidential candidate. That was in 1944 when they went for Thomas E. Dewey instead of Franklin D. Roosevelt.

In every other presidential election since 1924 the nation went as Pickaway County voted. Local voters picked Hoover in 1928; Roosevelt in 1932, 1936 and 1940; Truman in 1948; Eisenhower in 1952 and 1956.

Persons passing the corner of Court and Main Sts. will be asked to vote a secret ballot on both the presidential race and the race for 6th District Congressional seat.

The votes will be counted by The Herald and the results will be in next Monday's paper.

Senate Votes Ban against Aid to Castro

Any Nation Getting U.S. Assistance To Be Liable to Curbs

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate voted today to shut off all foreign aid money to any country which provides military arms or economic assistance to the Fidel Castro regime in Cuba.

It adopted the proposal, by Sen. Styles H. Bridges (R-NH), as an amendment to a pending $3,989,054,000 foreign aid money bill.

Under the amendment, funds would be withheld from any country which, in the president's judgment, "directly or indirectly is selling arms, munitions or implements of war, to the Castro regime in Cuba or directly or indirectly is giving or loaning military or economic aid to that regime."

The foreign aid measure, carrying most of the funds requested by President Eisenhower, is the last of the major appropriations bills not yet acted on by the Senate.

Sen. Mike Mansfield (D-Mont) the assistant majority leader, was asked by a newsman about spreading reports that Congress may adjourn by Saturday night.

"I wouldn't rule that out as a possibility," Mansfield said. "Indications were that adjournment then, a week ahead of the original target date of Democratic leaders, hinges largely on whether it appears possible for the Senate and House to compromise on minimum wage and other controversial measures."

The House Rules Committee was expected to clear the way today for a Senate-House conference committee to attempt to adjust differences between minimum wage bills passed by each branch of Congress.

The Senate bill, passed last week, would increase the minimum wage from $1 to $1.25 an hour. The bill previously passed by the House would boost the rate only to $1.15 and extend coverage to about 2½ million fewer employees.

If House conferees refuse to budge on the minimum wage issue however, Democratic leaders may take this as a signal that it is useless to prolong the session in hopes of action on housing and aid to education bill still snagged in the House Rules Committee.

Mansfield said that when the Senate completes action on the $3,989,054,000 foreign aid money bill, it will have passed all the measures it came back here to deal with after the national political conventions.

The Senate Appropriations Committee restored every cut the House had made in the foreign aid measure except for 200 million dollars for arms aid.

Credit Card Spree Ends For Burglar

CLEVELAND (AP)—A 44-year-old man on parole for burglary in California was in jail here today following a cross-country credit card spree.

Police said he told them he visited 11 states in a rented station wagon slept at the best hotel, ate well and bought expensive clothes—all with credit cards.

He was identified by detectives as Donald E. Newbold, of Lomita, Calif., and a former Cleveland resident.

A custodian at Louis Agassiz School here found Newbold asleep on a couch in a teacher's lounge Tuesday. He woke up as detectives were handcuffing him.

Police said Newbold told them he went into the school so he would not be picked up for intoxication.

Newbold told officers that he burglarized the office of a Dr. Joseph S. Silveria in Los Angeles last June 25 and took the doctor's identification card, several credit cards for gasoline and oil and a hotel credit card.

About a week later, he said, he used one of the credit cards to rent a 1960 station wagon by posing as the doctor's chauffeur and then left on a trip through 10 states.

Kennedy Labels Aged Medical Care As Major Issue of Fall Campaign

WASHINGTON (AP)—The issue of medical care for the aged was marked down today by Sen. John F. Kennedy for extensive treatment in the fall campaign after his defeat in the Senate on the issue.

A 51-44 vote defeated the proposal backed by Kennedy to write broad medical care benefits into the Social Security system and to raise payroll taxes to pay for them.

The defeat of the Democratic measure came only a few hours after the Senate had voted down a Republican-backed plan for a federal-state subsidy to help the aged with their medical bills.

A less liberal medical help program of federal grants to the states was approved after the plans backed by both the presidential candidates had been defeated.

The Democratic presidential nominee blamed his setback on the threat of a veto by President Eisenhower of including any health benefit plan in the Social Security system.

Kennedy said he regarded the vote on this question as a good test of whether it would be possible to pass any progressive legislation in this politically charged congressional session.

Once it was taken, he said, the remaining course was to "take the matter to the people of this country in the election in October and November."

After rejecting the Social Security approach to medical care for the aged, the Senate Tuesday night passed 91-2 and sent to conference with the House a limited bill dealing with this problem. The only opposing votes came from Sens. Strom Thurmond (D-SC) and Barry Goldwater (R-Ariz.).

The provisions of the bill on this point would beef up federal grants to the states to pay medical bills of needy persons on old age assistance or with incomes which just keep them off the relief rolls but are inadequate to meet health costs.

The Senate version of the legislation follows the lines of the House bill on medical payments, but contains more liberal grant formulas. Sen. Robert S. Kerr (D-Okla.), author of the Senate language, said he believed the House would accept it.

Only one Republican, Sen. Clifford P. Case (N.J.), plus 43 Democrats supported the Kennedy-backed Social Security plan. Thirty-two Republicans and 19 Democrats were opposed.

Also beaten 67-28 was a broad Republican health insurance protection plan for the elderly. This was backed by the Republican presidential nominee, Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

Not a single Democrat voted for it. Five Republicans and 62 Democrats said no.

Split in Dem Party Claimed Trouble Cause

Ike Points to 2-to-1 Majority in Congress Held by Opposition

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower said today Sen. John F. Kennedy can get what he wants from Congress if he can get the Democrats together.

With this mild gibe at the split among the Democrats, Eisenhower brushed aside at his news conference complaints by Kennedy, the Democratic presidential nominee, that the threat of an Eisenhower veto and lack of Republican support caused the Senate to reject his Social Security plan for medical care for the aged.

In making that complaint, Kennedy said that to get effective legislation "we're going to have to have an administration that will provide leadership and a Congress that will act."

Asked for comment, Eisenhower replied vigorously that the Democratic nominee has a 2-to-1 majority of his party in the membership of Congress.

He said he doesn't see how much more Kennedy could want. Even with more than enough, he added, the Democrats are not getting anywhere in Congress.

Eisenhower said that as for leadership, he had provided it by sending to Congress a program first outlined in January and then repeated in May and August.

The President said the Democrats have such a great majority that they can do what they want to in Congress if they can get together among themselves.

The news conference was devoted largely to politics, but the Cuban situation also came under discussion.

The President said he does not regard the Cuban situation as hopeless. He said that he will attend the fall meeting of the United Nations only if he finds later that some questions have come up that he thinks he should speak on personally.

In the political field, the President touched on these topics: EQUAL TIME—He announced he had signed a bill under which Kennedy and Vice President Richard M. Nixon, the Republican presidential nominee, can debate on television without the networks having to give time to minor candidates.

Eisenhower called the networks' offer to give free time a fine thing and a public service.

RELIGION—Eisenhower was told that evangelist Billy Graham had said religion is going to be one of the principal issues in the presidential campaign. Kennedy is a Roman Catholic, Nixon a Quaker.

The President said he always goes back to the constitutional provision guaranteeing freedom of worship. He said he thinks the Constitution means what it says and it is incumbent on everyone to respect the rights of others.

Eisenhower then went on to say that while he thinks religion should not be an issue he is not so naive as to believe it will not be in certain areas where there are strong emotions.

Spunky's Pal Nabbed by Cops

Search for Firman Shifts to Salem

SALEM, Ohio (AP)—The search for Gordon (Spunky) Firman, 21-year-old robber and jailbreaker, turned to this area following the capture of his pal, Robert Johnson, near downtown Salem early today.

Johnson, 22, was captured about 12:40 a.m. following a high speed chase that started at the southeast edge of the city.

Patrolmen Richard Whinnery and Donald Bradley spotted him alone in a car at the South East Plaza Shopping Center and took after him as the jail escapee sped away.

Following a chase of nearly a mile Johnson stopped the car and attempted to escape on foot, but obeyed the officers' command to halt. He admitted his identity, telling the officers:

"I might as well tell you. I'm Robert Johnson the escapee from the Coshocton jail."

Police, members of the Ohio Highway Patrol and sheriff's deputies went to the shopping center area in the hope of catching Firman, the other escapee who has led Ohio lawmen on a wild chase for the past month. But no trace of him had been found several hours later.

Firman and Johnson fled from the Cosco County jail July 26 and Johnson was recaptured Aug. 7. Firman returned to the jail last Wednesday night and forced a deputy at gunpoint to release Johnson. Shortly after they left the jail the two were reported to have robbed the City Auto Co. at Uhrichsville of $180.

Monday two men answering the description of the pair got $200 in a holdup at the Kitty Kat Cafe on Ohio 7 a mile north of Steubenville. They were armed with a pistol and a shotgun.

The 1960 Chrysler Johnson was driving when he was nabbed was stolen in Amsterdam, Ohio, two days ago, according to Police Lt. Robert Kirtchessner. He said a shotgun was found in the trunk of the car, but that Johnson otherwise was not armed.

Registration Writ Is Issued County

The Pickaway County Commissioners must approve $12,330 for county voter registration on or before 1:30 p. m. Friday or show cause why they have not done it.

A writ of mandamus was filed today in the Pickaway County Common Pleas Court by the Judge William Ammer.

Yesterday a petition for the writ was submitted to Judge Ammer by the Board of Elections to force the commissioners to appropriate the $12,330 needed to conduct county voter registration.

The writ was granted today and will be served by the sheriff's department soon. If the money isn't appropriated by Friday, a hearing will be held at 1:30 in the Court of Common Pleas and the commissioners must show cause for the refusal.

Charles Morris was the only commissioner available today. Morris said that Clyde Michel left on a two-week vacation today and Wayne Hines, the other commissioner, is currently at the Madison County Fair.

THE LONE commissioner said that he couldn't take any action, if the writ of mandamus is served to him, with the other two commissioners out of town. The matter probably will be left in the hands of Robert H. Huffer, attorney for the board of commissioners.

It is very doubtful that the money can be appropriated before the deadline Friday. The only alternative will be the hearing scheduled in the Court of Common Pleas, 1:30 p. m. Friday.

Air Search Continues for Lost Airplane

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP)—Civil Air Patrol planes resumed their search today for an Oklahoma family believed downed in their single engine airplane.

Col. Robert Gobel, commander of the West Virginia CAP, said the search order had been canceled Tuesday night, but was modified today.

The Griffing family left Teterboro, N. J., Aug. 16 in their private plane for their home in Oklahoma City. The father, Henry, was doing the flying. With him were his wife and grown son and daughter. Nothing has been seen or heard of them in the past eight days.

After the company of which the father is president, Video Independent Theatres, Inc., offered a $5,000 reward for the family's discovery, many leads started coming in from West Virginia.

By Tuesday night, all had been looked into and the missing plane was no closer to being found. Col. Gobel said this as he understood it, was the reason the search was suspended. A few hours later, when the modification order arrived here, more leads had accumulated. It was these that were being followed up today.

There were two that the colonel described as creating "hot spots." One was outside of Charleston, in the southern part of the state. The other was near Fairmont, far to the north. Both were of low flying planes seen late the morning of Aug. 16, about the time the Griffings would have passed over if they took a West Virginia route.

Joint U.S.-Mexico Stamp Is Unveiled

MEXICO CITY (AP)—U.S. Ambassador Robert C. Hill gave the Mexican post office a sample proof of a stamp the United States and Mexico will issue jointly next month in recognition of the 150th anniversary of Mexican independence. It will sell for 4 cents in the United States and 30 centavos in Mexico.

The auto was driven by Ester Jones, 40, of 325 Long Ave.

The driver said she was headed north on Washington St. She said the bike pulled across the street in front of her.

Patrolman William Goff said the car and bicycle were slightly damaged.

Logan Elm HS To Open Late

September 12 Set For First Classes

Logan Elm High School will open for classes September 12. That is several days later than the regular opening date of September 1, set last spring.

Reason for the delay is the new high school building is not quite completed. It will be ready on the new starting date.

Carl S. Burger, executive head of the Logan Elm District, announced that elementary classes in the district's three elementary schools will begin at 9 a. m. September 1.

However, high school students will report to the new building for orientation during a three-day period from September 6 to 9. They will meet in the cafeteria.

Ninth graders will meet at 9:30 a. m. September 6, 10th graders on September 7, 11th graders on September 8, and seniors on September 9.

SCHOOL BUSES will transport the students to school and return them home. The orientation periods will cover meeting teachers, touring the new building, scheduling, textbook and locker assignments.

The Logan Elm Board of Education has completed a transportation study. The number of school buses will be reduced from 17 to 15 in the district. Separate bus routes for elementary and high school students are planned.

Detailed Probes Launched In Gallipolis Strangulations

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The bodies of all three patients who died at Gallipolis State Institute earlier this month now have been taken to Ohio State University Hospital in Columbus for autopsy.

Two teenage patients at Gallipolis—Robert Brown, 18 of Chillicothe, and John Turner, 14, of Cincinnati—have told of killing the three who were believed to have died from natural causes. Brown and Turner, both with mental capacities of persons half their ages, said they did it "for kicks."

Dr. Donald R. Warehime, Gallia County coroner, ordered the remains of Paul Cross, 42, of Cincinnati, exhumed from Pine Street Cemetery in Gallipolis Tuesday.

If there are fairly evident signs of strangulation, such as hemorrhages the results of the autopsy may be available tonight, Dr. Warehime said. If microscopic studies are required—and this is the case with another autopsy, that of William Murphy, 41, of Lucasville (Scioto County)—it will be several days.

Dr. Warehime said the story told by the two teenagers indicates Cross may have been strangled with their thumbs. He said Murphy's face apparently was covered with a sheet—as the teenagers told it—and thus cause of death is harder to discover.

In the other death, Robert Flora 39, of Toledo, a sheet and towel apparently were used, and strangulation was evident upon autopsy, officials said.

Prosecutor Warren F. Sheets of Gallia County said he will confer with Institute Supt. (Dr.) George R. Roberts, the Ohio Highway Patrol investigators, the coroner and Dr. Henry Luidens, state mental hygiene commissioner before deciding whether to prosecute one or both of the teenagers.

Dr. Luidens has assigned an assistant commissioner, Dr. J. W. McGough, to investigate for any evidence of staff negligence in the matter. McGough will go to Gallipolis Institute Thursday. Luidens said he does not believe any member of the Institute staff is at fault.

U2 Pilot's Parents Leave Moscow; Wife Stays Behind

MOSCOW (AP)—Francis Gary Powers' parents left Moscow by plane today for Copenhagen, 11 days after they arrived for their son's espionage trial.

As Oliver W. Powers of Pound, Va., and his wife, Ida, boarded the plane, the only comment was from Mrs. Powers.

"I would have enjoyed the trip more if circumstances had been different," she said.

Powers was convicted of espionage for his ill-fated U2 flight over the Soviet Union May 1 and sentenced to 10 years' confinement.

The pilot's wife, Barbara, stayed on in Moscow, hoping to see Premier Nikita Khrushchev and plead with him to lighten her husband's sentence.

Barbara plans to leave for home Saturday unless Khrushchev agrees to see her. The Soviet premier is vacationing in Yalta, on the Black Sea.

Mr. and Mrs. Powers were accompanied by their daughter, Jessica Hileman of Washington, D.C.; Mrs. Powers' doctor, Lewis Ingram; a friend and adviser, Sol W. Cury, and attorney Carl MacCafee.

They were seen off by the U.S. consul in Moscow, Richard Snyder of North Plainfield, N.J.

The family was in a cheerful mood and did not discuss their son's plight with newsmen who had coffee with them as they waited for the plane. Mr. Powers and Mrs. Hileman bought souvenir enameled pins at the airport shop. Cury bought black caviar for friends.

The American flier said goodbye to his family Tuesday at interviews in the Soviet Supreme Court's six-story yellow sandstone building, with a uniformed guard and interpreter present. He is to be moved soon to a new prison outside Moscow.

Powers expressed belief, his parents said, that good conduct will reduce his 10-year sentence. He said there have been rumors in the Moscow prison where he has been held that he will serve only 7 of the 10 years detention.

Eisenhower replied that Powers could not possibly have been repudiated by the government.

He said any such statement would have cast Powers in the role of an adventurous fellow who designed, manufactured and flew his own plane off on a mission.

The matter was brought up at today's news conference by a newsman saying that there was some thought that Powers didn't have a chance in the Soviet Courts because this government had already admitted he was on a spying mission.

Eisenhower replied that Powers could not possibly have been repudiated by the government.

He said any such statement would have cast Powers in the role of an adventurous fellow who designed, manufactured and flew his own plane off on a mission.

Two Robbers
Linked with Burglaries

Deputy Sheriff Dwight Radcliff today said two men involved in an attempted robbery in Mt. Sterling early Tuesday morning may be connected with two burglaries committed in New Holland Tuesday night.

Deputy Radcliff said two unidentified men tried to rob a drive-in owner at 1:30 a. m. Wednesday. He said the intruders fled after the owner put up a fight.

According to the deputy, loot at the Forrest McCune Service Station in New Holland included 10 gallons of auto oil, $5 in pennies, four packages of cigars, three lighters, six cans of lighter fluid, $5 from a candy machine, $1 from a cigarette machine and 60 cents from a soft drink machine. He said entry was made by breaking a hasp on a side door.

James Wagner, manager of the New Holland Grain Co., said loot at his firm included $2 from a soft drink case and about 15 cents from a desk. He said the burglars also cranked two bottles of soft drinks.

Deputy Radcliff said entry was gained by forcing a side window of the grain building.

Radcliff said the Mt. Sterling drive-in owner was injured in the scuffle with the two men. He said one of the robbers struck him on the head with a piece of concrete.

The larvae of the dragonfly is called a nymph.

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market advanced early this afternoon but was having increasing difficulty as the rally pushed into the fourth straight session. Trading was active.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .70 to 224.80 with the industrials up 1.30, the rails off .20 and the utilities up .40.

Autos were active and held a slight upside edge. Aircrafts succumbed to profit taking on their recent rise.

A number of large blocks was traded early in the session as more funds were committed to the market following Tuesday's rally which was sparked by a cut in the prime lending rate of big commercial banks.

As the initial momentum wore off, more minus signs appeared. Rails, oils, rubbers, and drugs were mostly lower. The balance was kept to the upside by gains among utilities, steels, coppers, chemicals, and electrical equipments.

Most of the gains were narrow. The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 1.87 at 640.16. Corporate bonds were mixed. U.S. government bonds drifted lower.

U.S. Defense Chief Hails Yank Power

DETROIT (AP) — "The United States is the greatest power on earth," Secretary of Defense Thomas S. Gates Jr., told the opening session of the 61st national convention of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Gates also said "our limited-war forces are strong and ready." Another speaker to 14,000 assembled veterans of American wars—the man who designed the U2 plane—urged the United States to "shut up" about its defense progress.

This was Clarence L. Johnson, a vice president of Lockheed Aircraft Corp.

"Over the years during the development of the (U2) program it was essential that we learned how to keep our mouths closed," Johnson said.

"I would like to say that it would be a splendid idea if we could carry out this tactic in a large number of other defense fields."

Francis Gary Powers was captured flying a U2 on a mission over the Soviet Union.

Johnson pointed out that establishment of missile and other military bases are publicized in the United States.

"As a nation, we certainly run off at the mouth. Why can't we shut up and make things at least a little harder for our opponents?" Johnson said.

Soviets Use the Big Lie

Every trick in the book is resorted to by communists to achieve a desired effect. So now they are arousing Ivan Ivanov, the Russian man in the street, to see in every American a spy. To impress the dolt and emphasize the seriousness of the "spy menace," the Kremlin is grabbing American tourists and others foolish enough to be found in Russia here and there and expelling them from the workers' paradise.

One American student was expelled weeks after he had left the country! Weeks after it was supposed to have happened an American delegate to an international conference on automation and telemechanics was charged with photographing objects of military importance on the outskirts of Moscow when he should have been conferring.

The Russians have been using the technique of the big lie, which can be used with devastating effect. The big lie is simply repeated often enough that people finally believe it. And the leaders of the Soviet Union hope that not only Russians but others outside Russia will believe their lies.

Something obviously will have to give. It is unthinkable that the American people will take a complacent attitude forever toward this abuse of their nationals and their country by the biggest criminals ever to operate on a world scale.

Do You Want To Be Boss?

NEW YORK (AP)—The average man today doesn't want to be a boss.

Ask him why, and he will probably say: "Too much responsibility, too many ulcers. You never get the job off your mind. It kills you young. I'd rather have less pay, less worry—and live longer."

This picture of the modern business executive as a harried, ulcer-ridden tension-ridden individual who works around the clock and succumbs early from a heart attack has become as much a part of popular folklore as Cinderella or Little Red Riding Hood.

Bosses have done little to dispel this highly fictional portrait of themselves. After all, it flatters them and impresses the public. Why quarrel with it?

But what is the actual truth about American industrial leaders? Are they really dollar-mad robots who wreck their lives blindly slaving for a corporation god?

No, indeed! Not by their own testimony.

A recent issue of U.S. News World Report carried some results of a poll of 6,000 U.S. executives made by Dr. Harry J. Johnson, head of the Life Extension Foundation.

Dr. Johnson found: Executives worked an average of only 35 hours a week. They worked only five days a week, just as do most union members.

Only 30 per cent took office work home with them, and these averaged only 4½ hours a week at it.

In three cases out of four, executive fatigue came from boredom rather than overwork.

About 75 per cent of the executives were in good health, and as a group they suffered from ulcers or heart attacks no more than their underlings in the same age bracket.

Only 13 per cent complained they were under undue tension from their work.

The corporation executive, however, does differ from the ordinary business employee in one significant way.

"He can afford to dissipate—the lower-salaried fellow can't," said Dr. Johnson. "We have found that executives get too little sleep; 77 per cent of executives averaged seven hours or less of sleep per night."

His opinion is that all most executives need is to get another hour's sleep a night, take a 15-minute walk three times a day, and maybe lose a little weight.

The next time anyone offers you a $50,000-a-year executive post don't shrug him off like an ingrate. Accept his offer.

The hours are short, the fringe benefits are wonderful, you'll live just as long—and think how much fun your wife can have spending all that money!

Conventions Come High

The 1960 national conventions cost the television and radio networks and stations between $15,000,000 and $20,000,000. It is estimated that about two-thirds of this amount will be covered by sponsored advertising.

More than 5,000 newspaper reporters, apart from the 350 radio and television reporters, attended these conventions. The cost of this coverage is much too high for what it is worth. The convention is no longer free to control its own time. Each of the national committees receives a huge contribution from the city where it is held. This fund is made up by contributions from hotels, merchants and others who benefit by the large influx of visitors to a city. Competitive bidding is a factor in determining which city is to get a convention. It is part of the deal that the convention will last a minimum number of days.

For this reason some of the time is taken up with useless oratory, singing, and other matters which are a waste of time and money. Many hours could have been saved in both conventions if a few of the orators were omitted, considering what they said. As for the music, some of it was fairly good, but I was listening on television; in the convention hall, little of it is ever heard.

The conventions and the campaigns cost too much and take too much time. In no other country on Earth does a campaign continue for three months from convention to election and that does not include the primaries. The cost this year may mount as high as $20,000,000 which the two parties will have to find. This does not include what the candidates and their families may spend and what ancillary groups may spend. There will, for instance, be no accounting for what Walter Reuther's United Auto Workers Union will spend or what Jimmy Hoffa's International Brotherhood of Teamsters Union will spend. There will be other organizations on both sides that will add to the expenditures for this election, some accountable, some not accountable for what they do. As a matter of good government and justice, every cent spent by anyone for any reason for a Presidential or other candidate ought to be recorded in a sworn statement.

It should be a felony for a candidate to receive unrecorded financial assistance.

Shall we reach the day when the Presidency of the United States will be sold to the highest bidder? If the campaign were limited to one month, it would make more sense. With television available to the entire nation, it makes little sense for the candidate to visit 50 states. He can say what he has to say in a 30-day period and can be televised at all hours of the day and night without all the unnecessary chasing over the place. The whistle-stop speech-making was invented when there was no other way to let the people see a candidate. Today, everyone can see television or listen to radio and know as much about a candidate as it is necessary to know.

Of course, the candidates would have to compete with "Wagon Train" and "Peter Gunn" but that might force them to be interesting and not to depend so much upon the ghastly products of ghosts. In a shorter campaign, the candidates might even have time to write their own speeches and say what they mean. The ghost writer has become a pest and a nuisance, particularly those who regard themselves as great statesmen when what they really are at most are grammarians.

As for money, why not limit expenditures for each candidate, from all sources, to $1,000,000? There ought to be no exceptions to reporting and the candidate himself should be held responsible for the total expenditure, failure to remain within limits being a felony. Television time should be free, a recognition by the networks and stations that their licenses are not for nothing.

In Great Britain there are limitations both as to campaign time and expenditures. There each candidate's manager is made responsible for obeying the law. And it works.

It could be made to work in the United States. The country would get used to a short campaign and take it more seriously. Our people would respect a candidate more if he spent less money to get elected. After all, a Presidency that costs so much to get can become very cheap.

Optometrist Highly Trained

By Herman N. Bundesen, M. D.

I have lost 20,000 friends. The nation's optometrists, it seems, don't like me any more.

A while back, I wrote a column explaining the different functions of the experts who provide us with good eye care — the ophthalmologists, the optometrists and the opticians.

I have received letters from eight optometrists in different sections of the country criticizing me for slighting them. Well, I guess I did, but I did not intend to. I want to apologize and try to make amends.

Certainly, optometry is one of the most highly-specialized professions. While it is true that an optometrist is not a physician, he does provide us with complete vision care service with the exception of treating diseases.

He analyzes the functions of our eyes and prescribes preventive or corrective measures to give us maximum vision and comfort.

An optometrist is a highly-trained expert. His education embraces the combined knowledge of several different sciences and requires a minimum of five years of college. While this college curriculum primarily includes subjects directly related to vision care, one-fourth of an optometrist's education relates to the study of the body, eye diseases and symptoms of physical diseases which are often first revealed by the condition of the eyes.

This training enables him to detect accurately diseases of the eyes and other portions of the body eye diseases and symptoms of physical diseases which are often first revealed by the condition of the eye.

This training enables him to detect accurately diseases of the eyes and other portions of the body which require treatment by the ophthalmologists or other medical men.

After completing his formal education, an optometrist must then pass a state examination before he is admitted to practice.

Optometry has been a distinct profession since 1898 and it certainly has achieved a position of leadership in the field of vision care. Believe me, I don't intend to downgrade it.

And so, to the numerous doctors who wrote to me and any others who might have objected to my previous article, I'm sorry.

Peace?

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—The head of America's super-spy outfit doesn't expect the Soviets to make war on the United States any time soon. But he does expect them to give this country trouble in other ways for a long time.

Allen W. Dulles, director of the Central Intelligence Agency, made a plea Monday night for more courses in American schools on Communist theory and practice.

Talking to the Veterans of Foreign Wars in Detroit, Dulles refused to believe any soft talk from Russia's Premier Nikita Khrushchev whose intentions, he said, are the same as those of Lenin and Stalin: world communism.

The only difference between Khrushchev and his predecessors Dulles said, is a difference in technique in trying to reach the same goal.

"During the years immediately ahead it seems more likely that the immediate danger we will be facing, and on a worldwide basis, will be Communist political, economic and subversive action and penetration; not a hot or nuclear war," Dulles said.

He listed seven points he said are basic elements of Khrushchev's policy:

1. Build up Soviet military might based on ballistic missiles which would give him an effective weapon for direct attack on the United States.
2. Build up Soviet industry at the same time—to satisfy some of the needs of the Russian people—but still devote a greater share of it to military aims than the United States is likely to do with its industry.

3. Support all elements of extreme, rabid nationalism in Asia, Africa and Latin America. Dulles said: "He is working for chaos in countries from Cuba to the Congo, and chaos breeds communism."

4. Aim economic and technical aid at certain critical countries in Asia, Africa and Latin America where "the Communists believe they can make the most headway."

5. Keep in high gear Russia's worldwide subversive apparatus in countries from "Cuba to Central Africa and to Southeast Asia and indeed throughout the world."

6. Build Russia's formidable military weapons in secrecy and even exploit spy scares to preserve that secrecy while refusing any meaningful inspection system which would make disarmament workable.

7. Propaganda. Dulles said Khrushchev is directing "the greatest propaganda machine the world has ever known."

Thus the immediate future, as Dulles sees it, will bring not war but tremendous Soviet efforts at Communist subversion all over the world for years to come.

Sex-Teaching Tutor Tagged For Dismissal

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — A committee of the Milwaukee School Board has recommended that a high school teacher who initiated sex discussions in his classroom be discharged for "inefficiency and lack of good behavior."

Formal action by the full board in the case of Edwin M. Wasilewski, an instructor at Boys' Technical High School, will not be taken until Sept. 6 when the committee's report is presented. The committee however, affirmed "wholesome teaching of the subject."

At Wasilewski's hearing before the board, it was testified that he led discussions which touched on such topics as premarital relations, prostitution, and homosexuality. Wasilewski contended the discussions were proper under the circumstances and that he violated no rule in holding them.

Wasilewski, a bachelor, was suspended by the superintendent of schools Harold S. Vincent, when several parents and students complained about the discussions. Board President John Pederson said that the 13 members of the committee which considered the case voted unanimously to find charges "proved and true."

Judge Does Favor For Groom-to-be

CINCINNATI (AP) — Municipal Judge Clarence Denning has postponed the wedding plans of Mrs. Mildred Story, 43.

Mrs. Story, brought into court today on a charge of drunkenness, said:

"Just give me one more chance, judge. I'm going to get married. He's a good guy."

The judge took a dim view of the matter when he was advised Mrs. Story has a record of more than two dozen arrests on drunkenness and moras charges.

"I'm going to do that man a favor," he said. "I'm going to sentence you to 30 days in jail and fine you $50."

Ike Asks Right To Put Curbs On Dominica

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower has asked Congress for legislation giving him power to take away from the Dominican Republic an allotment of 322,000 tons of sugar for the U.S. market.

The President's action followed up condemnation of the Dominican regime of strong man Rafael L. Trujillo by the foreign ministers of the American Republics meeting at San Jose, Costa Rica, When Congress in July authorized Eisenhower to reduce Cuba's sugar allotment by 720,000 tons it provided that 322,000 tons of this reduction go to the Dominican Republic.

Citing the action of the foreign ministers in condemning Dominican acts of aggression against Venezuela and calling for a break in diplomatic relations with the Dominican Republic, Eisenhower said: "In view of the foregoing considerations, the government should have discretion to purchase elsewhere the quantity apportioned to the Dominican Republic pursuant to the July amendment to the Sugar Act.

"I therefore request legislation providing that amounts which would be purchased in the Dominican Republic pursuant to the July amendment need not be purchased there but may be purchased from any foreign countries without regard to allocation."

Homemade Tomato Sauce Makes Better Spaghetti

RICH AND FLAVORSOME — A homemade tomato sauce made in large quantity that can be stored in the freezer and served any time with spaghetti.

By CECILY BROWNSTONE

So many tomato sauces for spaghetti are weak and anemic, we hear cooks complain.

When we had a rich concoction we sometimes use a recipe we came on half a dozen years ago—once developed by an Italian cook. The cook's family must have been huge because the recipe makes 12 servings.

One change we've made in the original recipe—use olive oil and butter called for is now cut in half. Weight-watcher around the dining table will agree this is all to the good. The sauce also looks less oily on the plate than it once did.

And still another suit. When we first made the sauce we followed Italian custom and cooked it for three hours. Now we halve the cooking time and find it still produces a delicious result.

When you serve this sauce you'll find it's so luxurious that a little goes a long way. With it we like the very thin spaghetti or the thin, narrow and flat variety called linguine.

Be sure to cook the spaghetti so it is all done—still firm to bite on between the teeth. No only is the texture best this way, but so is the flavor.

Don't rinse spaghetti with cold water after cooking and draining or you'll leech out flavor. A good spaghetti won't be sticky so it doesn't need this rinsing.

When you want to reheat leftover spaghetti, pour boiling water over it and allow it to stand for several minutes before draining.

ITALIAN SPAGHETTI SAUCE
Ingredients: 1 small head celery

(with leaves cut off), 1/2 cup parsley sprigs, 1/2 pound mushrooms, 1 large onion, 2 large cloves garlic, 1 slice bacon, 1/4 cup butter or margarine, 1/4 cup olive oil, 1 pound ground lean beef, 1/2 pound ground pork, 1 can (6 ounces) tomato paste, 2 cans (1 pound and 12 ounces each) tomato puree, 1 table spoon salt, 1 teaspoon pepper, 1/4 teaspoon crushed dried oregano, 1/4 teaspoon ground allspice.

Method: Put celery, parsley, mushrooms, onion, garlic and bacon through food chopper using medium knife. In a large heavy kettle heat butter and oil; add chopped ingredients, beef and pork and cook until lightly browned, stirring often. Add tomato paste and puree, salt, pepper, oregano and allspice. Cover and simmer about 1 1/2 hours, stirring often so thick mixture won't scorch. Makes about 2 1/2 quarts. Store in freezer; if part of sauce is to be used without freezing, refrigerate for a day or so to develop flavor.

Dear Abby...

By Abigail VanBuren

You're No Man Yet, Son!

DEAR ABBY: I am a man by the laws of nature as well as the laws of the land. I am self-supporting, six feet tall, and celebrated my 21st birthday almost a year ago. But this doesn't mean anything to my parents. They still try to live my life and tell me what to do. Their biggest complaint is my recent involvement with a married woman who is divorcing her husband because of me.

I don't live by all the rules in their book, but I am of legal age and am willing to accept the consequences. How can I impress on my parents that a man of 21 can do as he pleases?

OF AGE
DEAR OF AGE: No one may "do as he pleases". We are all governed by the laws of our nation, communities, and the Scriptures—not to mention the laws of common sense. Until a male "grows up" morally and spiritually, he is not a man—no matter how tall he is or how many birthdays he has celebrated.

DEAR ABBY: I was over at my sister's house for supper last night and her husband gave her little boy the dinkens for eating fresh fruit from the ice box without washing it first. I didn't want to say anything at the time, but I used to eat plums and apples right off the trees many years ago and I never died. How come?

FRIENDLY NEIGHBOR
DEAR FRIENDLY: Years ago fruit farmers (and grocers) did not use insect sprays as profusely as they do today. The fruit should be washed BEFORE it is put in the "ice box". Mamma should have caught the dickens.

DEAR ABBY: Please settle an argument once and for all. I was taught that teenagers did not rush to answer the telephone when elders were around. My wife's teen-aged nieces and nephews always answer the phone in my home even if we are in the same room. When we are visiting their home, they literally race for the phone when it rings, elbowing each other out of the way. I say it is bad manners and should not be tolerated. I am told all teenagers behave this way and it is perfectly all right.

AN ELDER
DEAR ELDER: A guest (of any age) should not answer the telephone unless asked to do so. Teenagers should certainly have the right to answer the phone in their own homes (it's usually for them anyway).

CONFIDENTIAL TO "UNCERTAIN": If you want to know what kind of woman your girl friend will probably develop into—take a good look at her mother.

If you want a personal reply from Abby, write to her in care of this paper and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope. She answers ALL letters.

Ohio Twirler Cops Prize

FAYETTEVILLE, N. C. (AP)—A Parma, Ohio, girl, 10-year-old Charyl Palsha—won first place in the juvenile twirling division in the current Miss Majorette of America contest.

LAST UNTIL 1963—Accompanied by Mrs. Jessica Hileman, Mrs. Oliver Powers (left), mother of U-2 pilot Francis Gary Powers, returns to her hotel in Moscow after a visit with her son, perhaps the last for three years. He is under a 10-year sentence for his ill-fated spy flight and must spend the first three years in a prison. Mrs. Hileman is the pilot's sister. (Radio photo)

State Department Admits Yielding to Nixon Pressure

WASHINGTON (AP)—The State Department has acknowledged it agreed to offer funds to transport African students to this country after intervention by a political presidential candidate, Richard M. Nixon.

William B. Macomber Jr., assistant secretary of state, said the department's approval, reversing decisions dating back to August 1959, was communicated directly to Nixon campaign aide, James Shepley last week.

Macomber's letter was made public by Sen. J. William Fulbright (D-Ark) who called it "a sorry performance" in a Senate speech deploring "a department which is so susceptible to outside pressures."

Fulbright, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said Shepley and the State Department "entered the project on a crash basis" after learning that the family of Sen. John F. Kennedy—Nixon's rival for the presidency—had agreed to put up $100,000 to transport the students here.

"It is quite clear that the department reversed itself on what it construed to be the orders of Mr. Shepley," Fulbright said.

Macomber's letter said the department, after looking further into the project at Shepley's request, found that some aspects about which it had had misgivings had been cleared up.

One point with which the department had been concerned, he said, was "the manner in which the students were looked out for once they reached this country."

He said these doubts were cleared away when sponsors of the project to bring 250 African scholarship students to study in U. S. colleges agreed to work with the Institute of International Education.

This decision was reached Monday a week ago—just two days after Shepley telephoned Macomber and urged the State Department to review its earlier refusal to provide funds for the project.

"I understand that the vice president was unaware of Sen. Kennedy's interest at this time or any time prior to when the department's ultimate offer and the foundation's rejection was reported in the press," Macomber said.

Fulbright said Nixon had interested himself previously in obtaining funds to bring 250 Africans here to study under scholarship grants in American colleges but the State Department had taken the position it had no money for the project.

The matter rested there, Fulbright said, until Shepley got word that the Kennedy Foundation had agreed to finance the transportation of the students. At that point, Fulbright said, Shepley entered into it "on a crash basis."

Kennedy told the Senate that his family foundation had agreed to underwrite the cost of transporting the students and to assist in meeting their living costs while here only with reluctance because of other commitments.

He also said he had insisted that the foundation's support not be publicized but said that word of it apparently got to someone in the State Department.

DAG GONE — UN Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld, has a few words with G. P. Arkadyev (right), under secretary for political affairs, before boarding his plane for the Congo at New York's Idlewild airport.

Cincy Cop Lieutenant To Face City Hearing

CINCINNATI (AP)—Police Lt. Sylvester Broughton, 49, veteran of 23 years in the department, faces a civil service hearing Friday on charges he has been associated with a cousin, identified by police as a numbers racket figure, in operation of a restaurant, Chief Sanley Schrotel, suspended Broughton Monday pending the hearing.

Kennedy Fund Aided 31 Ex-Cadets

WASHINGTON (AP)—A spokesman said today the Joseph P. Kennedy Jr. Foundation supplied funds to continue the education of 31 West Point cadets expelled nine years ago in a cribbing scandal.

Pierre Salinger, press secretary for Democratic presidential nominee John F. Kennedy, said in response to inquiries that the money was supplied anonymously to the cadets, several of whom enrolled at Notre Dame University.

He pointed out that not all of the 90 students who were expelled had cheated. The academy dismissed some because they knew of the cribbing and did not report it.

The foundation was created 14 years ago by Joseph P. Kennedy Sr., father of the presidential nominee, in memory of his eldest son who was killed in a Navy plane explosion over the English Channel in 1944.

Daniel Webster served as secretary of state in the cabinets of three different presidents—William Henry Harrison, John Tyler and Millard Fillmore.

Garden Gossip

Mr. R. A. Huffer, Route 1, Kings-ton, has a sunflower 16 feet tall. He also has zinnias that are all of 5 1/2 inches in diameter and bright orange. Some are the fantasy type. Mr. Huffer bought his seeds, we understand, from Larry Stant, who was selling them as a school project.

William Robison, 342 E. Main St., has three varieties of morning glories. Some are dark blue, some the flying saucer type (pale blue with streaks) and some are a combination of red and white. The morning glories reached the top of the fence then climbed over the sunflowers. It's a mighty pretty sight.

Mrs. Robison likes flowers in the house and her husband says if you see any blooming in the garden it means there'll be arrangements in the house.

The golden rain trees at the Veterans' Hospital in Chillicothe are a pretty sight now. They have ever so many.

C. H. Bowen, Chillicothe dahlia fancier, is just now beginning to harvest his big blossoms. He cut a Son of Volunteer that was 13 1/2 inches in diameter, a Mary Elizabeth that measured 12 inches across and a Big Mo that was 12 1/2 inches.

BOWEN says that Big Mo is a rather tricky dahlia in its estimation and he is well pleased with it this year.

Addison Young's pappy from Fairfield County is a coon dog man. He's got 12 coon dogs.

Young says that when he plays his accordion the coon dogs all set to howling. It's got so he hesitates to get out his accordion here of late.

Young says that coons are on the increase. He pointed to our woods and told us that when he was a young man a woods like that would have about five or six coons. Now there would be from 25 to 30.

We reckon the John Masts would agree. The coons have been bothering their sweet corn.

Bill Duval near Ashville, just wasn't going to let the coons get the best of him and his sweet corn. So he laid for 'em with a shotgun. Well, before too long, the coons came along and began on the sweet corn so Bill hit one. He just let it lie in the sweetcorn patch as a lesson to the other coons. Sure enough the other coons got scared off and didn't bother Bill's sweet corn anymore.

Lowell Anderson, Route 1, Kings-ton, returned Thursday evening from Paris, France. He has been touring the continent and took in the International Flower Show at Rotterdam. But as far as gardens are concerned the gardens at the Palace of Versailles were his favorites.

Lowell says it rained every day in London and that he almost melted in Rome.

MRS LLOYD Petty and I have a cold frame project together. She is a person of action. One day we talked cold frame. The next day she was up with her grandson's sand-box frame and wanted to know if it wouldn't make a good cold frame.

We were telling Frances Root of Pataskala about the project and she said to be sure and sterilize the soil. I poured 30 gallons of scalding water on it and covered it with a heavy layer of newspaper. I felt mighty sorry for the earthworms if there were any. Mrs. Root once operated the Walnut Street greenhouse.

We were asking J. L. Chilcote's sister what J. L. had in bloom. She said he always had pretty roses.

And speaking of roses M. E. Noggle is a rosarian with lots of assurance. He told me to come over and see his rose bushes. He added that the roses were not blooming at present but that the bushes are in an excellent state of health.

Mr. Noggle attributed his healthy roses to Phalthon. Professor Chadwick at Ohio State University also sets store by Phalthon.

Walter Lammerts, the rose hybridist, asked Mac Noggle to check on a certain rose that was said to be immune to blackspot. Mr. Noggle was checking this rose with Professor Chadwick who said, "We can't tell whether or not it's immune. None of the roses have blackspot. We use Phalthon."

If M. E. Noggle and Professor Chadwick recommended Phalthon so does the garden page editor. If you grow roses go get yourself some.

not want to sell the Noggles any crepe myrtles or figs because he said they would not be hardy enough for the Ohio climate. The Noggles bought them anyway and the Noggles have both crepe myrtle and figs. The crepe myrtle is blooming now and reaches the roof of the kitchen.

JUST LET somebody tell Mac Noggle that he can't grow something and he sets about to prove he can. Alright I'll challenge him to grow lupines. The only places in Pickaway County that we ever saw lupines grow were down on Town street where there's a blue lupine that is nine years old and at the Clyde Hoovers.

Year after year Frank Stump, Route 4, Circleville, grows eye-catching flowers along his fence. Right now it's the petunias that are so colorful. A little earlier it was his glads. We hear that Frank Stump is a champion blackberry picker. Just picks 'em for the fun of it and gives 'em to the neighbors.

Mrs. Eugene Hanson, Nicholas Drive and Northridge Road, had better luck with her bought seed boxes of asters than anything else she grew.

The garden editor is the only person we know of who did not succeed with seed boxes...the kind that already have the seed planted in vermiculite and all you do is to water them. I think the house was too chilly for the seeds to germinate properly.

But we had good luck with seed mats. Today we discovered a double gaillardia among the seed mat plants. They are so pretty, like little balls of color. Single gaillardias are not nearly as attractive.

Each time we go to the store at Whistler we take a gander at Myrt Hunter's wild pineapple. It's doing fine. She had it tied to the tree and it lives on air.

The wild pineapple was given her by her daughter who lives in Cleveland. She will take the air plant inside this winter.

Myrt also had a rubrum lily that is very lovely. However she is disappointed in it. Last year there was a clump of the lily. This year only two stalks came up. This is a rather temperamental lily, but Gee! it's pretty.

There are two new lavender roses out this fall. Jackson and Perkins is offering a new floribunda, Lavender Princess and a new hybrid tea, Orchid Masterpiece.

WE HAILED the advent of the lavender rose with great enthusiasm. As each new lavender appeared on the market we tried it out. Now we must confess we are lousy rose growers but even at that we maintain lavender roses are delicate.

So we were interested to hear from Mrs. Camille Moore, Baltimore, Md., that she too regarded lavender roses as unpredictable. Incidentally, we have never bought Lavender Girl (It costs five bucks). Nor have ever seen Lavender Girl. We'd like a report on

New Desalting Filter Found By Scientists

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Two university engineers have developed a new desalting filter which they say can produce drinkable water 100 times faster than previous methods.

Sidney Loeb and Dr. Srinivasa Sourirajan of the University of California at Los Angeles said Monday that their synthetic film yields consumable water at the rate of eight gallons a day for each square foot of membrane area.

Membranes have been used before to desalt water, but the engineers say that so far such filters are too slow for commercial purposes.

Their membrane is produced by mixing cellulose acetate with a water solution of magnesium perchlorate and acetone. This sticky mixture is spread on a glass plate and, when dry, is stripped away in a film four one-thousandths of an inch thick.

It is cheap durable and can be used 24 hours a day without maintenance or power, the engineers said. They say they have made potable water from brine containing 5.2 per cent salt concentration, which is much saltier than ordinary ocean water.

if anyone has it in his rose collection.

Our flowers need weeding badly. But we are too busy with the Labor Day swimming pageant to work in the garden. That pageant is going to be a riot. Plans now are to start about 6 p. m. We're hoping for a good-sized audience this year. Everybody's welcome. Guests will have to sit on the ground, so bring your football blankets to sit on.

Sorry fellas! Absolutely no more swimming dates at our pond. We had reports that one of the young ladies used offensive language. Of all the swimmers we have had this summer this is the first such report. A well supervised swimming pool is the place for swim dates. We have no intention of allowing questionable behavior or language at our pond.

In fact, while we are making rules, we'll just say Circleville kids stay home! That is unless we give you a personal invitation. It is different with the Saltcreek Twp. youngsters that we know.

Thursday I picked a bouquet for Martha Wright who is visiting her grandparents in Kingston. She did not carry the flowers to the car as my little guests usually do but handed the flowers to her Grandfather, Jim Mattinson. Jim, like all livestock men, would rather be caught stealing than admiring a flower. But he manfully took the bouquet. If I'd only had a movie camera! Sure nuff, I'd have all the necessary ingredients for a good paying blackmail plot.

If you are 11 years old or under you're almost certain to rate a bouquet if you visit my garden. Nothing looks quite so appealing to me as a youngster going down the garden path with a big bunch of flowers, most especially little girls.

Bar-Le-Duc, Gourmet's Item Is Only for Stout-Hearted

We were first introduced to bar-le-duc, that magic concoction of currants and honey, by a woman who had once been a pianist of considerable acclaim on the New York concert stage.

When we knew her she was living on a small Michigan farm with her husband and their four children. She was obviously rather down on her luck.

But that did not deter her from making bar-le-duc. She came over one day in a state of glowing creativeness with a glass of bar-le-duc, which to her surprise we had not heard about, certainly never tasted.

According to the neighbor, bar-le-duc was without peer in the realm of desserts. Bar-le-duc, crackers and cream cheese with black coffee! Ah this was heaven!

BEING AT the stage when Well-sley fudge cake was our idea of all that was wonderful in desserts, we took a dim view of bar-le-duc. To our utter surprise we discovered it was indeed a rare and wonderful delicacy.

We have long since lost track of the concert pianist and her family as well as her recipe for bar-le-duc. But, each season when currants appear on the market we have wished we remembered how to make bar-le-duc.

The recipes given in the run-of-the-mill cookbooks included sugar

Houston Still Tries To Stall Integration

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — The Houston board of education has taken another step in its attempt to delay integration of Houston's public schools.

School attorney Joe Reynolds asked the Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals in New Orleans Monday for a stay of U.S. Dist. Judge Ben Connally's order to integrate the first grade next month. The city has the largest segregated school system in the nation.

The board has appealed Connally's order to the court and Reynolds asked for a stay in case the court does not rule on the appeal before school starts Sept. 7.

Sex-Slayer Is Beaten Up By Prisoners

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Alleged sex-slayer Ronald G. Fenton, 28, was held to the Summit County grand jury Tuesday at his arraignment in Municipal Court on a first-degree murder charge. His attorney pleaded him innocent and waived a preliminary hearing.

Shortly before the arraignment Fenton, who police said admitted the kidnapping of 1-year-old Joanne Starcher, was attacked by two other prisoners in the city jail.

Wendell O. Clardy, 18, and Frank Salmon, 20, pleaded guilty to assault and battery on Fenton, but both told Municipal Judge Thomas Powers they were not sorry because they knew Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Starcher, parents of the slain baby. Each was sentenced to 60 days in the county jail.

A jailer heard a scuffle and Fenton crying for help. Capt. Stephen McGowan said Clardy and Salmon were attacking Fenton when the jailer broke it up.

Fenton refused hospital treatment for bruises and a cut lip. He also declined to prosecute the pair, but police swore out an affidavit against them.

The Starcher baby disappeared from her home here early the morning of Aug. 10. The following night her body was found in a pond south of here.

Ex-U.S. GI Trying To Join Cubans

HAVANA (AP)—A dishonorably discharged U.S. Air Force sergeant who once tried to defect to the Soviet Union said today the Cuban air force is considering his application for a job in Fidel Castro's intelligence service.

Paul D. Wilson, 31, of Indianapolis, Ind., said Castro's secretary, Juan D. Orta wired him the air force would get in touch with him.

Wilson told newsmen Monday he hoped to join Castro as a "loyal Cuban patriot."

Wilson said he was in the U.S. Air Force 12 years and tried to defect to the Soviet Union while serving in Germany but was caught by U.S. military police. He subsequently was sentenced to three years in prison and a dishonorable discharge for desertion, larceny and forgery. He was freed after serving part of his term in a federal prison in the United States.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The bid of $19,586 by Coady Co. of Columbus, was apparent low for the job of putting in new sidewalks and repairing existing ones around the state capitol building, the Public Works Department said. State estimate for the job was $31,380.

WHAT DOCTORS SAY ABOUT:

Telling The Cancer Patient

- Thick Blood
- Psoriasis

Q. Should the cancer patient be told?

A. This is a difficult question and certainly one that can not be answered with a flat yes or no. What to do would seem to depend entirely on the circumstances. Perhaps a certain amount of beating around the bush is desirable or essential, depending upon the individual, but it would very often seem unwise to resort to outright untruths. Many sufferers, though untold of their condition, must be able to make shrewd guesses by the very nature of their treatment. They really need no telling—they already know.

Q. I have often heard older men and women say that they have "thick blood." Is it actually possible for the blood to become too thick?

A. True thickening of the blood, called polyglobulism, can occur but the condition is rather rare. The lack of pep and general feeling of tiredness that older men attribute to "thick blood" is probably nothing more than spring fever.

Cheap Money Is on Its Way To Nation

Financial Front
May Not Like It,
But It Is Coming

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — Cheaper money in the United States is coming all along the financial front, like it or not.

The hope is that it will help business pick up speed this fall after its spring and summer lull, although the experts are divided on whether it will.

But lower interest rates here also could spur our loss of gold and the flow of short-term capital from these shores to those of booming Europe.

A less likely, but still possible, result of lower interest rates now is that this might set off a new inflationary boom but only a few think the economy is in a position to react in that way.

It's this rather mixed blessing that the financial, business and government world is studying today in the wake of the initiation of a drop in the cost of business borrowing from the nation's banks. This bank charge is called the prime rate, and it is the most important of the any interest charges in its spreading effects on business and individuals alike.

The drop in interest rates here is partly the result of the stagnation of industry—less demand for credit at a time when funds for investment are building up.

Part of the drop is due to steps taken by the nation's money managers, whether these are to bring interest rates in line with current conditions, as the Federal Reserve Board insists, or whether the moves are consciously intended to break the business stalemate before it slips into recession.

But the interest rate trend here is running counter to that elsewhere in the world, particularly Western Europe. And as a result, the United States has been losing both lendable funds and gold. The trend has become so sharp that in West Germany and Switzerland steps are being taken to halt the flow lest it spur inflation there.

Our loss of gold slowed for a time, but in the last six weeks the U. S. Treasury store has dropped by 300 million dollars. More disturbing is that foreign holders of U. S. dollar assets could call for gold instead and the drain could pick up speed.

U. S. money authorities think it is unlikely and apparently deem more important just now the bringing into line of interest rates, low enough to tempt businessmen to borrow for expanded activities, for new equipment or plants, or building up stocks.

They also appear to hope that cheaper money will revive the home building industry and perhaps the lagging sales of some appliances. In turn this could mean more factory output, more jobs.

The Federal Reserve has been setting the scene for a drop in the bank prime rate by two cuts in its own charges for funds lent to member banks and by making an additional 600 million dollars

Solon Seeks Whether 'Leak' Of Papers Tied to Politics

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Mike Mansfield (D-Mont) called today for an investigation of whether the Potsdam papers were leaked for publication for political purposes.

Mansfield, the assistant Senate

Democratic leader, said he will ask the Senate Foreign Relations Committee to inquire into whether there were "any political overtones" in the way the documents became available to certain reporters.

Reports published by the Minneapolis Tribune and the Des Moines Register Tribune says that former President Harry S. Truman agreed with the late Soviet dictator, Joseph Stalin, to stall a Japanese peace feeler three weeks before the first atomic bomb was dropped on Hiroshima.

The articles also said the papers show that Stalin once praised Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower as an "honest man" who turned over to the Soviets 135,000 Germans trying to surrender to the Americans.

Both the State Department and the newspapers denied that any intentional leak was involved in making the papers available to Fletcher Knebel and Charles W. Bailey, who wrote the new paper series.

"There was no leak. This was newspaper enterprise," said Richard L. Wilson, chief of the Washington bureau of the Cowles Newspaper.

The Potsdam meeting was the last of the major World War II meetings between the Big Three allied powers—Britain, the United States and the Soviet Union. It discussed postwar plans for Europe first outlined at Yalta, including provisions for democratic processes in Eastern European nations. These the Soviets did not live up to.

Knebel and Bailey wrote that the conference "marked the end of America's illusion that a peaceful world could be rebuilt from the wreckage of World War II."

"On a whole range of questions—Russian looting, repression, violations of the Yalta agreement, fomenting of rebellion, subversion—Churchill and Eden slugged it out at the conference table while the U. S. delegation listened," the article said. It described the dark conflicts of Europe.

It added that U. S. Secretary of State James F. Byrnes and British Foreign Minister Eden argued vainly with V. M. Molotov, the Soviet foreign minister, over Red tactics in Bulgaria, Romania, Yugoslavia, Italy Greece and Poland.

Jr. High Grid Plan Draws 64

The first step in organizing a junior high football team here was accomplished last night when 64 candidates reported at the local gym for physical examinations.

Varsity Coach Carl Benhase and Junior High Menor Paul Sarchet said they were pleased with the large turnout. The reporting list is only one less than the number of candidates which showed up for high school examinations.

Getting checks last night were 34 eighth graders and 30 seventh graders.

Several candidates tipped the scales at weights nearing the varsity level. Ray Ferguson, an 8th grader, checked in as the heaviest at 178 pounds.

DICK Samuel at 170 and Jim Starkey at 168 are other hefty products. Mick Tomlinson reported at 159 and Bruce Bell at 158. Lightest candidate is Dennis Mumaw at 66 pounds.

The junior high hopefuls will report in the CHS gym at 1 p. m. Friday for an orientation. The first practice will be held on Tuesday's opening day of school. Equipment will be issued on the third day of drills.

Junior high uniforms and equipment have been purchased by the Circleville Booster Club which will sponsor the program this year as one of its most important projects.

Six games have been lined up for the locals with the season opener set for September 29 at General Sherman in Lancaster. The home card opens October 6 when General Sherman comes here for a return engagement.

Remaining games are: Oct. 13 Lancaster Thomas Ewing (here), Oct. 20— at Thomas Ewing, Oct.

Booster Club Here Eyes Projects for Coming Season

Several important projects were on the agenda last night as the Circleville Booster Club conducted its first meeting of the season in the high school social rooms.

One of the top projects centered on the club Commercial Membership Drive which will be held here September 3 starting at 1:30 p. m.

President Ralph Starkey lined up his membership committee to direct the campaign. A followup on the drive will be conducted September 10.

CHS Coach Carl Benhase said members of the high school and junior high teams will help with the drive.

ANOTHER important discussion involved the Booster-backed junior high football program which gets under way here this year. Most of the money from the membership drives will be devoted to purchasing new uniforms for the 7th and 8th graders.

The Boosters also voted to sponsor a brochure pamphlet on this year's Tiger team. Paul Smallwood was named to edit the book, along with the assistance of Coach Benhase and Jack Cook, student publicity man.

President Starkey said a large football schedule again will be posted at Benney's Court and Main St. Restaurant.

Starkey said additional meetings will be called prior to the September 3 Member Drive.

Trainer George M. Odom, 77, a native of Columbus, Ga., won the 1904 Belmont Stakes with Delhi. He quit riding at 22 due to weight problems.

The Richmond Virginians remained in second place, 15½ games behind the leaders, by beating Columbus 6-3. Miami beat Jersey City 1-0 behind Jim Archer's hurling in the first game, but lost the second 8-4 Montreal defeated Rochester 9-5 in the opener of a twin bill, but the Wings took the nightcap 7-3.

A three-run homer by the Vees' Lee Thomas in the second inning gave Bill Short a 6-0 bulge and he weathered an 11-hit Columbus attack to win his second straight since being sent down by the parent New York Yankees.

Wynn Riled By Yanks, but Chalks Victory

Another Beanball Incident Brings Threat to Hurler

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Now that Early Wynn has cut the New York Yankees down to size, the next step is to knock 'em flat.

The 40-year-old right-hander, a tough guy with a brush-back pitch, promised to do just that after he pitched the second-place Chicago White Sox to a 5-1 victory over New York and trimmed the Yankees' American League lead to a half-game Tuesday night.

What got Wynn riled was a ninth-inning pitch by Yankee reliever Jim Coates that just missed his head. Wynn made for the mound, bat in hand, before teammates and the umpires checked his charge.

"Sure it was a beanball," Wynn said afterward, "and someday I'm going to get all nine of 'em (the Yankees)."

With Wynn, a first-inning replacement for Billy Pierce in a switch that led the Yanks to protest the game, putting away the 281st victory of his career, the Sox took over sole possession of second place. The hot-running Detroit Tigers knocked Baltimore to third, 1½ games behind, by beating the Orioles 5-3 in 11 innings. Washington defeated Kansas City 3-1 and Cleveland edged Boston 3-2 in 10 innings.

Wynn, now 10-8 with his third straight victory, allowed only four hits and faced the minimum 14 men over the last 4 2/3 innings after giving up a fifth-inning home run by losing pitcher Eli Grba (3-2). It was Grba's first in the majors, and ended Wynn's shut-out string at 16 innings.

Manager Al Lopez brought in Wynn to replace Pierce, who made a couple of warm up tosses but didn't pitch to a batter. The Sox lefty had pulled a muscle in a pre-game warm up. The Yankees protested, saying the rules state a pitcher must face one man, unless injured.

The Tigers made it seven in a row, their longest winning streak since 1956 when Charlie Maxwell tagged losing reliever Wes Stock (2-2) for a two-run homer in the 11th. Detroit had tied it with two in the ninth on singles by Maxwell and Rocky Colavito and a double by Al Kaline. Bill Fischer (6-6) was the winner.

Washington retained fourth place on a two-run homer by Harmon Killebrew and an inside-the-park home run by Reno Bertoia that backed southpaw Jack Kralick, who won his fifth.

Doubles by winning reliever Mudcat Grant (8-5) and rookie Mike de la Hoz broke the tie for the Indians and beat reliever Frank Sullivan (4-10).

It looks like Milwaukee Manager Chuck Dressen really started something when he started using Lew Burdette strictly as a starter.

The fidgety right-hander, who last worked in relief on July 30, when he beat Los Angeles with a home run, has pitched five consecutive complete games since, and has won four of them—one a no-hitter.

He extended his shutout string to 29 innings with his third straight shutout, a seven-hit, 7-0 breeze at Los Angeles Tuesday night as the second place Braves belted Dodger pitching for five home runs.

It was the Braves' sixth success in seven games, but left them 6½ games behind Pittsburgh. The Pirates rapped Chicago's Cubs 8-3.

Stars Meet Hillsboro Today at WCH

Circleville's Little League All-Stars meet Hillsboro at 7:45 p. m. today in the Washington C. H. Sesqui LL tournament.

The local Stars will be after their second win in the tourney after displaying a homerun barrage to clip Chillicothe Merchants Monday, 6-3.

Circleville's Monday victory was climaxed by Chet Hill's two homers over the rightfield wall and a circuit clout by Buddy Strehle.

Tournament games last night saw Hillsboro dump Chillicothe Barrett, 12-1, behind the no-hit pitching of Jim McConaughy and Washington C. H. blast Chillicothe Merchants, 14-2.

The first game today will pit WCH vs Chillicothe Barrett. The Circleville-Hillsboro battle will follow.

Robby's Bat Booms Better From Outfield

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Outfielder Frank Robinson of the Cincinnati Reds watches teammate Gordie Coleman on first base like a father whose child is playing in the street.

Frankie doesn't ever want to play first base again.

His return to the outfield has apparently improved his batting—which badly needed improvement—and his outlook.

He was the only Redleg to score Tuesday night and collected two of the Reds' five hits in a 6-1 trouncing by San Francisco in cold, windswept Candlestick Park.

Robinson needed a new hitting lease on life after so profound a slump in mid-season he was benched.

"He's fighting himself now," said Manager Fred Hutchinson at the time.

Robinson didn't really begin to perk up until after Coleman was brought up from the minors and showed he could hold down first base defensively.

"I don't like first base and I'm not satisfied there," Robbie said repeatedly. "I don't think I can do my best there."

The Reds' only run Tuesday night came in the second inning and Robinson got it started with a leadoff single. After Coleman fanned, Cliff Cook walked and Chico Cardenas blooped a run-making single to right.

Third-place St. Louis, eight games back, beat Philadelphia 4-2. San Francisco smacked Cincinnati 6-1.

Olympics Slated To Open Thursday

ROME (AP)—Amid tranquility which even sent 10 Communist athletes to a special audience by Pope John, this ancient, storied city was poised today for the start of the 17th Olympiad Thursday.

The papal audience for all Olympic athletes and officials in St. Peter's Square just precedes the arrival of the Olympic torch from Greece.

At City Hall, the torch will be set in a tripod, remaining lit until it is carried to the Olympic Stadium for the official opening of the games.

A pro-Communist newspaper, Paese Sera, disclosed Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev sent an Olympic message to Rome, to be delivered by the Soviet embassy to the Italian games organizers shortly before today's papal audience.

The newspaper said as a result of Khrushchev's message, confirming a "spirit of brotherhood" that 10 of the Soviet Union's 400-member athletic delegation would attend the audience by the head of the Catholic Church.

After the opening ceremonies before an expected 100,000 in the Olympic Stadium, the games proper will start with eliminations in boxing and water polo Thursday night.

On Friday, seven more sports will move into action. But the kingly of the games, track and field, does not start until next Wednesday and the last of the 18 sports to be contested, equestrian, gymnastics, weightlifting and shooting do not begin until the week of Sept. 4.

Favorable weather was predicted for the opening ceremony which will see 4,000 of the total 8,000 athletes from 85 nations parading under the late afternoon sun.

The parade group was restricted because of space limitations in the white new Olympic Stadium.

The International Olympic Committee Tuesday cleared its decks for the start of the games by unanimously re-electing Chicago's Avery Brundage, 72, for another four-year term as president.

The wealthy hotel man, already president for eight years, thus defeated a reported move to unseat him. The re-election meant a vote of confidence for the austere amateurism preached by Brundage, if not practiced to his wishes, throughout the world.

He's the youngest ever to win the marathon jaunt, and he proved Tuesday he's ready to give it another big try. He broke 200 straight in the Class AA championship to tie nine others, but could not shake off two of his veteran challengers, despite another 100 straight in a shootoff. Still tied with him were George Newmaster of Lebanon, Pa., and Dan Orlich of Reno, Nev., former pro football players. They were to decide Tuesday's issue in today's regu-

In other special events Tuesday J. Hood Nichols, 32, of Jefferson City, Tenn., broke 100 straight to win the zone singles title and 35-year-old Merle Kemmerly, Shreveport, La., night club owner, cracked 100 straight at doubles. Nichols lost an eye in an accident several years ago, and converted to a southpaw.

In Tuesday's Class AA, A, B and C championship, each divided into men, women, juniors and professionals categories, two Ohioans tied for first place only to lose out for the trophies in shootoffs. They were Paul D. Staadt of Trotwood who had 199 in the Class B men's, and Helen Urban of Mentor, who broke 196 in the Class A women's.

Big Titles Now at Stake In Roaring Grand Trapshoot

VANDALIA, Ohio (AP)—Having disposed of a flock of minor titles in the first two days of firing, more than 1,000 marksmen settled down to big business today at the 66th Grand American Trapshoot.

The North American clay target championship, a 200-clay event at 16 yards, is on the agenda, and it carries one of the most coveted crowns the sport has to offer.

The titles for men, women, juniors, sub-juniors, and professionals will be decided.

A year ago 16-year-old Keven Onka of Sugar Creek, Mo., broke 200 straight to tie five other hotshots in a field of 1,055, and the youngster blasted another 150 in a row to snatch the laurels.

He's the youngest ever to win the marathon jaunt, and he proved Tuesday he's ready to give it another big try. Ammunition Industry OKs Reloading of Shotgun Shells

VANDALIA, Ohio (AP) — The ammunition industry, which a few years ago frowned on trapshooters reloading shotgun shells, has extended a cautious helping hand to the "do-it-yourself" clan.

Realizing the reloading trend isn't just a passing fad, the industry has jumped on the bandwagon by making its best components—powder, shot, wads and primers—available to the hand-loaders.

Several industry men at the 61st annual Grand American Trapshoot estimated today some 800 million factory loaded shells are sold annually, about 11 per cent to skeet and trap marksmen. They also figured the scattergun artists reload 50 to 60 million each year—a total far under that claimed by the homemade fraternity.

Shooters at the "roaring Grand" must buy factory-made ammunition here on the mile-long battleground at $2.25 for a box of 25, well under the market price. Reloaded shells, taboo here can be made for about $1.20 per box and the "huls" may be used several times. No one knows just how much reloading is done, but the average gunner at the Grand American uses 8,000 to 10,000 shells per year, and much of it is put together in his basement. The reloads are used for practice and in some minor shoots, and have put a crimp in the factory sales of finished ammunition in some areas.

But one industry man said: "Reloading is now a part of trapshooting. It certainly has boosted participation as shown by the increased sale of clay targets, traps and trap guns."

"We have been hesitant about selling components to individuals, but the safety factor, not the economic, was our great concern. We have electronic controls, precision laboratory testing equipment and other detectors to eliminate variables."

"But some individual loaders always want to be inventors and 'snap 'em up' a little. That is dangerous and it also rules out uniformity."

"Ammunition companies are probably their own best customers when it comes to using up shells. We fire millions each year in tests in assuring uniformity in velocity, pressures and shot patterns."

Both industry and the marksmen agree that when money is on the line in the big shoot or you're trying to get meat for the table, you don't use reloads."

U.S. Blonde, Soviet Boxer Are Romancing

ROME (AP) — An East-West romance appeared to be budding today between an American and a Russian.

They are Doris and Boris. The American is blonde and shapely Doris G. Fuchs, 22, of Rochester, N.Y.

The Russian is Boris Nikorov, 21, a boxer from Moscow.

"We're getting along fine," said blue-eyed Doris in an interview. "This cold war stuff doesn't go with us."

She shrugged her trim shoulders.

"The trouble is—we have it sort of rough trying to talk. I don't know any Russian and Boris, well, he doesn't seem to know anything else."

She said she met Boris last week at the Olympic Village club. "I danced with him," she explained, "and well, that sort of started us off."

She said the main problem of the moment was trying to get across the idea that she wants watch Boris work out.

Asked if she were not afraid the Russians might think she was spying, Doris smiled.

"Oh, no. Nothing like that. I just like Boris and he seems to like me."

Cincinnati hopeful, cCliff Cook, playing third base for Nashville in the Southern Assn., hit seven home runs for the first month of the season.

Tribe Chief Puts Temple On Bench

BOSTON (AP)—Cleveland second baseman Johnny Temple was benched by Manager Jimmie Dykes Tuesday night for the opener of a three-game series between the Indians and the Boston Red Sox.

"I've been lousy and nobody knows it better than I do," Temple said when told that he would not be in the lineup. His .270 batting average is 41 points lower than it was at Cincinnati last year.

"I can't believe that a player can go back so far in one year," Temple said. "I've never gone through a season like this and I hope I never do again."

"Twice I've gone up to .290 and have slipped back both times. I can't figure it out. One thing, I'm not getting any lucky hits. I have to work for 'em."

The Indians won the series opener, 3-2, with a 10th inning double by rookie Mike de la Hoz driving in the winning run. His drive off the left field wall scored Jim Grant, who also had hit a double and became the winning pitcher in relief. The victory broke a four-game losing streak for the Indians.

Grant (8-5) had pitched four, scoreless innings after relieving starter Bobby Locke, but was removed in the 10th after Ted Williams singled and Pumpsie Green walked with two out. He was relieved by Johnny Klippstein, who got Russ Nixon to lift a pop fly for the third out.

Cleveland collected 14 hits—with Jim Piersall, Tito Francona and de la Hoz having three each—but left 15 runners stranded for the second game in a row.

As he demonstrated his old and new positions I photographed them. The old position found his left wrist held firm with practically no bend. This kept the club pointing upward without properly completing the fold. He replaced this left wrist firmness with a certain amount of ease and enough bend to allow the club to drop slightly below a horizontal position.

"This affords me a much smoother downswing with better striking force and accuracy," he said.

All golfers could profit greatly by continually checking the state of the left wrist in the starting position and throughout the whole swing. This wrist truly reflects your whole mental and physical state.

Miracle Miler's Coach Is Unhappy

ROME (AP)—Herb Elliott, Australia's miracle miler, is caught on the fringes of a dispute which is hurting his pre-Olympic training.

With only seven days before track and field competition starts, Herb and his coach Percy Cerutti are still not working together.

Cerutti wants to live in the Olympic Village, right next door to Herb.

Australian team officials have refused him permission a dozen times and evicted him once. They say Cerutti cannot be given privileges denied 26 other coaches who work on individual members of the Olympic squad.

Grant (8-5) had pitched four, scoreless innings after relieving starter Bobby Locke, but was removed in the 10th after Ted Williams singled and Pumpsie Green walked with two out. He was relieved by Johnny Klippstein, who got Russ Nixon to lift a pop fly for the third out.

Cleveland collected 14 hits—with Jim Piersall, Tito Francona and de la Hoz having three each—but left 15 runners stranded for the second game in a row.
